He was informed that the National Policy on Education, 1986 lays emphasis on consolidation of facilities rather than their expansion and does not favour opening of new universities. He was further informed that in view of the resource crunch, this Deparment was finding it difficult to meet the financial requirements of recently established central universities. In pursuance of the national policy on Education, 1986, Government have since established national Council of Rural Institutes. One of the major objectives of which is to promote rural higher education on the lines of Mahatma Gandhi's revolutionary ideas on education.
